This full-service, lifestyle management company and luxury travel agency certified by the IATAN network of worldwide agents, is significantly changing the private concierge industry by offering its clientele customized A to Z experiences, insider tips, luxury privileges (not available to just anyone) and 24/7, 365 days a year service no matter how short of notice.

To best accommodate its key clientele, the company has established offices in both Miami Beach, Florida and Sao Paulo, Brazil with satellites in several major cities, including New York, Los Angeles, Las Vegas,

London and more. Silicon Valley techies to C-level executives, celebrities and the elite, invest and rely on WGY to manage their lifestyles because of their limited time, and to ensure seamless travel and one-of-a-kind life experiences.

WGY Lifestyle prides itself on its strong relationships with major airlines, hotel groups, vendors and suppliers such as Commune Hotel Group, American Airlines and TAM Airlines, to name a few. WGY recently solidified its partnership with Starwood Hotel Group, which offers its clients exceptional luxury privileges at St. Regis, The Luxury Collection or W Hotels Worldwide. These unique relationships allow WGY to get insider rates, and Business/First Class tickets all year round, with special curbside security check in and VIP golf cart access right to the guest's gate.

WGY Lifestyle services include a la carte options for one-off instances like booking a first class flight overseas, or scoring the most coveted ticket in town, to prominent membership options ranging from $8,000 to $12,000 depending on the package (Essential, Bespoke, Indulge or Corporate).

"We're often asked how we differentiate from every other concierge or Amex premier services, and I truly think it's all about our personal approach – we consider ourselves supreme 'Life Stylists,'" said Keeperman. "From the start, we get to know and fully understand our clients so well so that we are always five steps ahead and can readily book them at the right restaurants, stock their hotel rooms with items of their choice and create personalized itineraries without having to ask them because we know how limited their time is."

"I believe it's also the significant, loyal relationships and high profile hospitality partners that Luiz and I have built over the past decade in two major cities; we get the job done no matter the capacity or turnaround time of the request, which is not something that other companies may be able to offer," said Hoinkis.
